The Real Purpose Of Your Mission And Cycle - Our Planet: A New Being Of Light Energy

Cosmic Awareness: OPENING MESSAGE:

This Awareness wishes at this time to send healing energies to all entities connected with this Awareness and the movement and associations through which this Awareness functions: the Aquarian Church, Cosmic Awareness Communications, and those who have, in one way or another, at one time or another, been touched by this Awareness, directly, or through associations with those who have been directly touched by this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates that It wishes at this time to send energy through this network of individuals who are connected by Aka-cords, by an awareness of this Awareness, who are touched, or who have been touched by this Awareness, those who are present, those who have previously been subscribers to these messages, those who have at one time or another participated in reading or witnessing readings by this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates that It now wishes to gather energy to further send through this network even more energies touching these entities.

This Awareness asks those present to search their minds, their memories, for individuals, for names, present and past who have in some way been touched, who have in some way been connected with or associated directly or indirectly with this Awareness or Its messages; that in focusing on these names, even briefly, this enhances this network, this flow, this current, so that the energies this Awareness pours forth into this movement will be strengthened.

This Awareness indicates that this energy that is now being poured forth into these entities is that which shall serve as healing energies on all levels -- spiritual, physical, economic, relationship, career, family --and that this energy also can be passed on by these entities to help those whom they touch.

In this way, this energy is like a purifying energy that is reaching forth through multitudes, touching them, and their loved ones.

This Awareness indicates that in turn, their loved ones may still move the energy further, to reach out, touching still others.

This Awareness suggests that you visualize this energy moving across this nation into other countries, touching individuals, and from those individuals, reaching out as fingers of light, touching still others, from hence more fingers of light spring forth to touch still others.

The Network of Light Visualization

This Awareness indicates that in visualizing this, you begin to see a network of light spreading across the face of the earth.

This Awareness indicates that even as this energy is spread, emanating from this moment, from this source, from this time, you will recognize also that there are other lights, coming from various places also emanating from this Awareness to other channels through other channels, through other methods, through other individuals and groups and these lights commingle with the light that is now being sent as healing energy, this creating a criss-cross of energy, like a fabric of cloth, a cloth made of light, a blanket covering the earth, glowing light, of woven energy; this energy having a healing nature, bringing blessings to all who are touched by it, to all who even are remotely close to it.

This Awareness indicates that you see this blanket of light covering the earth, raising the frequency and vibration of the earth so that it begins to vibrate and pulsate to a new frequency, a new light.

You see this as such that those areas of darkness can no longer hold their old frequencies, where the frequencies and the pulsations are influenced by the frequencies of light and pulsations of light.

This Awareness suggests that you now visualize that within every atom throughout this globe, throughout the atmosphere surrounding this globe called Earth, that every atom, every molecule, every area of space, every inch of space within the earth and surrounding the earth, now has added light.

This added energy of light is that which fills every atom and these atoms, connected to one another with new lights add greater light to every molecule, and every molecule to every particle of matter or gas, every substance, every substance being filled with greater light.

This Awareness indicates you now see this earth and all of its substance as being modified into that of a light planet, a planet in which there is increased light throughout every molecule, every atom that is anywhere remotely connected with the planet or its atmosphere, and all of the inhabitants thereon.

This Awareness indicates that you see this light as that which now is fixed, everywhere present, and it cannot retreat, cannot be moved away because it is everywhere equal and there is no place for it to go, other than to flow into those areas of the atoms in which there might be a vacancy of light, and as it fills those last dark vacancy atoms, they too light up.

This Awareness indicates that all entities on this planet now have absorbed a little greater light than was previously known.

All things have absorbed more light. All atmosphere is filled with greater light.

The planet itself is composed of more light, and this light energy is also life energy, and this life energy as that which brings forth greater vitality, greater happiness to all beings thereon.

This Awareness indicates that this light as that which is now being sealed upon this planet.

This light as that which in being sealed will not be removed, but will remain steadfast with this planet, becoming a natural part of the planet's new evolution.

This Awareness suggests entities begin to think of the earth as a planet of light, a transformed being, a New Being, a New Being of Light Energy.

This Awareness indicates that where this earth was once seen as mud, as filled with darkness, debris, pollution, garbage, this Awareness suggests now that you see this earth as being a glowing beautiful paradise.

You see it as a spiritual home for many.

You see this glowing ball of light floating in space as that which gives comfort and healing to many who come within its presence, to all who come near.

This Awareness suggests that the healing as having been completed.

The energies as that which shall continue to grow and evolve within this planet, as the image fixes itself in terms of reality. This Awareness suggests that the questions may begin.

Follow-Up Question:

In this healing technique just given, is this one that entities can use by themselves after tonight also?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that this is in the affirmative that the visualization as that which will be enhanced each time entities read the information as given, or each time entities follow the concepts as suggested through the healing actions; that it is a matter of intention and visualization that brings about the clarity and manifestation of the image.

This Awareness indicates that entities may either read the material aloud, in silence, or may record the information and play it back, or may use the recording presently being made, or they may wish to make their own recording of this message, using their own voice.

In any case, it will be beneficial in manifesting the healing.

The Real Truth About "The Fall Of Man" (And Why It's Okay To Have That Individuality)

For All Us Humans, One Upmanship on The Angels...

Question:

A question from S.H. It's a rather long statement: "I have a question which may be of general interest.

In my attempts to synthesize the teachings I've encountered so far in theology, philosophy, psychology and metaphysics, I'm having trouble reconciling what seems to be a basic discrepancy concerning the rationale for our earthly lives and our goal as spiritual beings.

On the one hand is the "Original Sin" premise, where we are experiencing a kind of punishment, whether of our own or of God's devising, like beings on probation, or doing time for having transgressed by turning our backs on or believing we are separate from God.

To redeem ourselves we must learn, be disparaging of our lower selves, transcend the ego and all of its involvements, and ultimately renounce any unique self-identity.

The goal is presented as a melding with or immersion in God as a kind of blissful state of oblivion, a return to the void with no retention of individuality, undifferentiated reunion with our Source.

On the other hand is what I call the "Spark of Life" premise, where earthly life is viewed as a kind of kindergarten state in the development of the individualized soul consciousness.

The lessons involve increased awareness of our divine origin with a concomitant gain in our ability to constructively co-create.

The goal from this perspective is the ever-increasing awareness of All That Is and creative fulfillment at a god level of consciousness, but with retention of a unique focus or point of view within that awareness.

We continue to manifest God individualized somewhat like the fiery sparks in a diamond or precious opal.

What it comes down to is a view of ourselves as "bad" or naughty children who blew what we once had and now must regain, or as beloved though immature ones who are in the process of unfolding.

Are we to love life in all its forms, including this one, or overcome it? Are we to be self-effacing or self-glorifying? The Question may seem simplistic, but the answer has so many ramifications in our making of decisions and choices in daily matters.

I am a clinical social worker and encourage attitudes and feelings of self-worth as a primary objective in my counseling, and it's disconcerting to vacillate at different times concerning the basis for worthiness."

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness wishes to clarify the question before proceeding to the response.

This Awareness suggests that this entity is concerned as to whether or not the role of humanity is that of moving from a high state, having fallen into disgrace, and seeking to regain the grace that once was lost, or whether humanity is evolving from some lowly state in an upward direction, hoping to gain some greater understanding which never has been experienced previously to begin with.

This Awareness indicates it is a question of whether the entities composing humanity are represented by the theory of evolution having evolved from lower life forms on the journey upward, seeking to develop a higher soul stuff, or whether the entities were higher soul stuff, and through disobedience, or error were cast out, fell into disgrace and are now trying to work themselves back into favor of the Divine Forces.

This Awareness indicates that in order to respond to this, you must reflect on the many messages this Awareness has given previously and also many of the classic messages from metaphysical and religious sources which essentially tell much the same story.

This Awareness suggests for example, the Prodigal Son, the entity going away from the Father, wallowing in sin and then finally having enough and returning to the Father.

This Awareness indicates this essentially is a more basic story of the Fall of Man, mankind, falling into disgrace and then seeking to return, and regain the favor of the Divine Father.

This Awareness has given the story of Rhyee moving out in consciousness as the masculine principle, leaving behind Isis, the feminine principle.

This is in reference to that which is the polarization of energies that are part of natural physics or natural law, and this has been given in the Edgar Cayce readings in a discussion pertaining to mankind's previous existence before coming into physical form, in which mankind was said to have played with the forces of creation and to have thrown them out of balance, causing them to react in such a manner as to create gross matter.

This Awareness indicates that the playing with the forces as that which is represented by the force of Rhyee or the principle known as the masculine force, the radiant energies, and also known as the positive polarity, being pushed toward an extreme to throw things out of balance, causing an equal and opposite reaction on the Isis, negative, or feminine polarity, so that the extremes of imbalance of polarizations that were set up or set in motion through the playing with these polarities causing matter and spirit to move into extreme oppositions in such a manner that what was once dream state became materialized on the one hand and spiritualized on the other hand, so that matter and spirit became two different realms, rather than one balanced dream state in the universe.

What once was a combination of mind and matter in such harmony that mind and matter were equally bound to each other by playing with polarities, led to the imbalances creating materialization on the one hand, and the spiritual or antimatter on the other hand.

This Awareness indicates that man, which in Sanskrit is the same word for mind, moved into matter, where mind entered into matter as mankind, the material body, or embodiment of mind as mankind may be thought of as a fall in consciousness, a fall from grace.

These are simply ways of telling the story.

Actually it was a movement of physics.

The merging of mind and matter, the flux of mind and matter became separated into a duality of positive and negative realms, spiritual and material realms, and caused the appearance of a separation when mind took on physical embodiment, and thus, the physical embodiment of mankind as that which is called the Fall of Man, the loss or separation from God.

In reality it is nothing more than an imbalance brought on by polarization.

This Awareness has suggested that entities reconcile the yes and no, the plus and minus, the positive and negative, for in reconciling these, entities will find that the material and the spiritual begin to merge, and in so merging, become one.

This Awareness indicates that likewise, in the story of the Fall of Man, or the Fall of Mind, it has been said that the very act of separation is that which brings about the concept of self, the development of ego.

It is a futile pursuit for entities to seek to be equal to the Divine, and thus, Lucifer, who sought to be more beautiful and more appealing than the Divine, claiming to be the reflection of the Divine, is a representation of the ego, where the Divine Force being present, in reflecting upon itself as that which by its very action of reflection creates a duality, and that reflection is less than the original, and therefore the reflection may be symbolized as Lucifer, but that reflection, in glorifying itself as a symbol of the Divine, is in reality a counterfeit.

The Story of Rhyee and Isis

Therefore, the counterfeit, symbolized as Lucifer or Rhyee, the male force, is not equal to the Divine which is the whole, which is the complete male/female principle of creation. It is rather, a composite.

The Divine is a composite of both the female and male energies of the Universe, and by the Divine moving toward a reflection, allowing a reflection to take place, and that reflection seeing itself as being of great importance and separating from the Divine as was said to occur with Lucifer and Rhyee, the action left instead a separation of the female principle, or that known as Isis, and the totality could not exist in totality until that Luciferian reflection rejoins with the Isis and together, with the original Divine Principle.

This Awareness indicates therefore, the ego, or Lucifer aspect of consciousness falling from grace or balance and harmony as whole, or holy, as that which became a separation or the illusion of a separation and was called a male principle, Rhyee or Lucifer as compared to the remaining force which was labeled as Isis or the female principle, the principle which waits for the return of Rhyee or Lucifer, the principle which waits for the return of that part which separated, but in that separation it was not satisfied to separate just once, and in the myth of the Egyptians, for example, it was symbolized as Osiris who was chopped into little tiny bits and Isis sought to bring back those parts, to reassemble those little parts.

The "Original Sin": The Separation From God

This Awareness indicates that the symbolism of this, the meaning of this is that Rhyee separates once, separates again, and there are two masculine principles, these two separate and there are four, then there are eight, then there are sixteen, etc., each separating and separating and separating until there are countless numbers, each seeing itself as God, each seeing itself as Lucifer, the brightest and greatest of all, and thus you have individuality.

This Awareness indicates that this is referred to as the original sin, the separation from God; the separation from God being that sin or error.

This Awareness indicates that in the separation and in the quest of the ego to prove itself as being great and glorious, certain things begin to happen, like the Prodigal Son, but instead of one Prodigal Son you have countless numbers of Prodigal Sons out there, some embodied as women, some as men, some as children, some as beasts of the fields, some as insects and birds each putting forth their efforts to accomplish something meaningful in their lives, to prove themselves worthy and great, and these entities see themselves as the most important of all things to themselves and this is the ego.

This is the Lucifer quality of each of these individuals it is that which is developing the individuality.

This Awareness has indicated that when you discover yourself for what you are, as a separation, as an ego, as being apart from the Divine, that you not judge yourself, for in such judgment you hurl yourself even further away in isolation; that you not judge each other, for in such judgment you separate yourself further from others, but rather that you love yourself and love others, and in so doing, you begin to reconcile the differences.

You begin to see your individuality as being that which is alright, and your individuality is that which begins to take a form that does not have great significance, but has substance, and in this movement of recognizing the Divine, recognizing that your return to the Divine, your surrender to the Divine does not mean giving up your individuality, does not even mean giving up the separateness, but means only recognizing that the separateness was an illusion to begin with and that you were never separate from the deity, you were never separate from the Divine, but in so doing, in the surrender of self back to the Divine, you discover that there is something that remains intact in regard to your individuality, even when returning to the Divine.

This Awareness indicates it is like the concept of one who begins as a drop of water in the ocean, but in developing individuality, becomes like a jellyfish and still remaining in the ocean, still being clear, still has some sense of individuality, even in the union with the ocean.

This Awareness indicates that you will return eventually.

All will return eventually to union with the Divine, but all will also retain that sense of individuality that has been developed because of the separateness that occurred.

The Angels Cannot Be Individuals

This Awareness indicates that those who did not first separate, those who always were part of the Divine, those angels, those Heavenly Hosts, will not have the advantage of being individualized.

They will be reflections of the Divine, but they will not be individuals, as has occurred with those who have fallen from Grace and have returned, for during this illusion which appeared to be the separation, a transformation takes place from all of the suffering that has occurred, and that suffering and that transformation cannot be removed.

It is deep in the memory and creates the individuality that remains as a permanent part of an entity's self, even when the entity surrenders that self to the Divine.

It is much like in surrendering the self to the Divine, the entity having created a soul, returns the soul to the Divine.

This Awareness indicates that an entity who goes forth into a dream, and in that dream suffers great agony, suffers great effort and struggle, and experiences many great joys and losses and then suddenly finds himself awakening from the dream, that entity will be changed by the dream, will not be the same entity as he or she was before having the dream.

This Awareness indicates that so it is -- entities who have not fallen from grace will still be the same.

Entities who have fallen from grace, who have pursued the illusion of separation, will have developed an individuality from all of the suffering that has occurred, and will, upon returning to the grace of the Divine, have a greater appreciation for the Divine than those who never left, will have a deeper understanding, a greater experience and memory to draw upon.

In this way, as this Awareness has indicated previously, mankind will be above the angels in those higher realms, and the angels will look up to mankind for those experiences which he or she have endured in the physical embodiment.

This Awareness indicates that as consciousness begins to rise towards the spiritual, the polarities that were brought on by the extremes will begin to be reconciled, and in that reconciliation, mind will have greater power over matter, and miracles will begin to occur again.

This Awareness indicates that it is for this reason that the Dark Forces attempt, and will continue to attempt, to keep polarization to the extreme, to create hatred where possible, to create fear where possible, to create pain and suffering where possible, to cause entities to turn against one another where possible, for if these polarities of emotion, of concept, of religion, of fear and pain; if these can be increased or enhanced, then the extremes of polarities will keep spirit and matter greatly separated and there are those forces which can control energies when locked in matter.

Reconciling Good And Evil, The Yes and No

It is for those who are aware to reconcile the yes and no, to reconcile the extremes, to bring into the middle of the teeter-totter, to stand not on the ends but in the middle and to bring about that mid-point balance, reconciling as much as possible, the extremes, where possible.

This Awareness indicates that, obviously, if there was that which is like a lever in which the teeter-totter is not balanced equally on its fulcrum, one end is longer than the other, and great weight overwhelms one end of the teeter-totter and there is no way that the weight of the other end can balance, then of course an entity may need to create an opposite polarization to equal the force that is overwhelming in its control.

This is why it may become necessary, for example, that a totalitarian regime must be confronted by some force that rises up to equal in an opposite direction to that totalitarian regime; thus, you move the teeter-totter from being elongated in one direction and short in the other, so that both sides are equal, and then you begin to work your way slowly through reconciliation and negotiation toward a meeting ground in the middle.

This Awareness indicates there are many who have made the mistake of compromising with that which was already extreme and out of balance.

Thus, if one is cruel and evil and you compromise by becoming halfway cruel and evil, you are not reconciling, for you must first create the equal and opposite.

You must create the super-good and super-merciful to reflect against that which represents itself as super-evil and super-cruel.

Then, from that proper balance, you may begin to move slowly, gradually toward the center so that each becomes not so cruel, perhaps not so good, not so merciful, not so evil, pretty good, kind of bad, alright, well, not too nice, and then reconcile in the middle as two entities in one who are what they are.

This Awareness indicates that in this way, entities can reconcile these extremes by working toward something that is better than what was before, and as entities begin to recognize their own weaknesses, their own fallaciousness, their own illnesses, and see an ideal, they may then begin to work even towards a reconciliation between the ideal and what they are.

The Secret of Working Miracles in Your Life

This Awareness wishes entities to understand that if you wish to effect miracles in your life, you must first learn to reconcile extremes in your values, in your personality, in your emotions, in your concepts, and in your way of looking at things.

You must move your mind from the belief in material reality to that which is reconciled between the realization of spiritual realities and material realities, at a point halfway between where mind and matter meet as one, and where you realize that it is neither right nor wrong, it is alright, it is acceptable for you to have what you seek to manifest; that it is not just for yourself, but for others also, reconciling between self and others, reconciling between right and wrong, for you to have something; reconciling between spirit and matter, where mind and matter meet as one continuing to reconcile any polarities that you may hold in terms of concepts, in terms of emotions, and as you continue to reconcile in this manner, all those polarized aspects of your psyche, you will gradually find that you can have what you wish to manifest, but if there is an aspect of your psyche that says, "It is wrong for me to have this," or if there is an aspect of your psyche that says, "I want this, and I don't want anyone else to benefit from my action," in other words, if there is a polarity in your thinking, "Me but not him, or him," or "I do not deserve this," or "He does not deserve this," -- any types of polarity, whatever they might be -- will prevent the manifestation from occurring.

The manifestation must provide benefits for all involved, where there is no guilt, there is no denial of yourself or others, there is no desire for aggrandizement and praise for your manifestation, you do not do this for the glory that it brings you, for that would be a polarization of ego and self.

You may do it for the glory of God, or you may do it for the glory of humanity.

Your Real Purpose in Life

This Awareness indicates as long as there is no polarization, the images held can be manifested, as long as mind and matter are one.

This Awareness indicates that in your evolution, in your search for purpose and meaning in life, your purpose is to discover that you separated from oneness from the Divine, you took on the ego, the Lucifer, the Rhyee, you took this on to experience separateness.

In your experiencing of separateness, you are developing individuality.

It is important to continue developing that individuality to your satisfaction.

Once you are satisfied, you will then automatically begin your return to the Divine, bringing all that you have developed as a gift to the Divine, giving yourself entirely to the Divine, and in so doing, in so surrendering self, you merge with the Divine, you reconcile the Lucifer with the Deity, the Creative Godhead and become one with God, and thus, you have completed your mission and cycle.

This Awareness indicates that this essentially is the trip.

You can speed it up by knowing where it goes, or you can savor it, enjoying the various moments along the way, taking your time, smelling the flowers, basking in the sunlight, enjoying the ego, and individuality of being important when you can, suffering the significance of humiliation of when it occurs, seeking to overcome weaknesses, seeking to gain greater strength -- all of this is part of the journey.

You can prolong it or you can cut it short by surrendering to the Divine immediately all that you have gained yourself, and turning yourself entirely over to the Divine.

This Awareness cautions entities who have not yet developed their ego self, their individuality, that if they surrender too soon, they may not be satisfied and may wish to return and finish or to develop more individuality.

This too is permissible.

You may surrender all that you are to the Divine and realize that you really didn't bring much because you hadn't really developed much individuality, and you may wish to develop more individuality, and if so, you may then choose to go out again and again, each time returning with greater awareness of self, and a greater decision of giving up the self to the Divine.

This Awareness indicates it doesn't really matter if entities know where they are going, because the path is set and entities generally will follow the path.

There are, of course, benefits in being able to recognize the path so that they do not wander off the path too far, becoming lost and confused, but for their own sake they need not suffer so much if they have some idea of where the path leads so that they can stay on the path and follow the path.

This Awareness indicates that even being lost and off course is part of the development of individuality.

This Awareness suggests that this, of course, leads to greater suffering and greater confusion, but it does have the advantage of speeding up the development of the individuality.

This Awareness suggests that if there are any questions relating to this, that these may be asked now.

Why Did Jesus Curse The Fig Tree?

(More On Jesus Being A Composite)

Question:

Understanding that the stories of the Bible are not to be taken as historical fact, our question is: What was the point, meaning or reason for the story where Jesus left the temple after overturning the tables of the moneychangers, why did he curse the fig tree?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that the stories of the Bible in some cases are historical in other cases are symbolic.

This Awareness indicates that in the depiction of this action, the story as that which related to the historical entity...

This Awareness wishes to back up and clarify here; that the entity in the New Testament known as Jesus was a composite of many different entities.

Some of the stories attributed to Jesus are taken from other religious writings, many from writings of earlier times and these are historically on record from other writings prior to the time in which Jesus was alleged to have done these things.

How Jesus Got His Name

In some cases, the stories were in other religious literature, in several different cultures, under several different names.

This Awareness indicates that in the time of Rome when the New Testament was being assembled in order to create a Roman religion officially acceptable to Rome, under Constantine's direction, these stories being compiled from different sources and attributed to Jesus included some stories that were true.

This Awareness indicates you will recall that this Awareness had indicated the original name that was generally agreed upon for the entity around whom these stories would be officially associated with was to have been Zeus.

This was before certain elements of the group objected vehemently because Zeus was a Greek god and they did not want Romans to have a Greek god.

It was only after this that they selected the name Jesus.

The name Jesus was a common name of the time. This Awareness indicates that it was a name that did not have any gender. It was neither male nor female. It was neuter.

Its name was: "Neither He Nor She."

This Awareness indicates that prior to the selection of this name, there were different factions in Rome, including the Jains, Gnostics, those of the Helios group, the Krishna groups, and various groups from India, including Sikhs and other religious factions from various foreign countries, and these entities all wanted to have their influence in the new Roman religion being assembled.

One of the groups included was that which was represented by the Essene group who were followers of an entity named Jesus of Nazareth; the entity as one who had, in fact, historically entered into the temple at one time and who had in fact driven out the moneychangers; this being a radical action.

In this sense the story was historical as part of this entity's activity.

This Awareness indicates that many of the other parts of the stories in the New Testament will be found in other religions dating previous to this times.

This Awareness indicates that the action of driving out the moneychangers was an action of challenging the Jews -- the priests of the time -- for their desecration of the temples, and this entity essentially was challenging the entire Hebrew religion up to that time even though he said: "I come not to change the law, but to fulfill the law."

The entity was, in fact, reinterpreting the Old Testament law, for the Hebrews of the time, the priests, were expecting the Messiah to return and they were expecting a Messiah of great power, and the entity Jesus saw mercy as being more important than great power.

"The Lord" Was a Space Ship Commander Moses Spoke With

This Awareness indicates that these Hebrew priests were waiting for the god of Moses to return.

The god of Moses was what you would presently call an alien: one who was the commander of a space ship, and the word "Lord" was much like your present word "commander," Thus, when Moses spoke with the Lord, he was speaking with the commander of a space ship, and often, when describing the Lord, was describing his space ship, and thus, when telling people not to touch the Lord or they would surely die, he was referring to the radiation that would come from the space ship if anyone got too close.

The Hebrews were waiting for this power of this Lord or "Commander" to return to claim his own.

This Awareness indicates that this information has been given previously by this Awareness through this Interpreter, but the entity Jesus as one who, knowing the legend and knowing the beliefs of the Hebrews and having received much training of a higher order, of a higher and more spiritual teaching, while having traveled in India and Tibet and Syria, this entity Jesus recognized that these Hebrews were waiting for a materialistic power, an alien force, when in actuality, what they needed was a spiritual awakening that was not simply representative of the Hebrews, but for all people, regardless of their nationality.

And so, he made his entrance into Jerusalem claiming to be the Messiah, not returning in a fiery chariot of a space ship, but riding on a donkey.

This Awareness indicates that this entity entered and made a mockery of the expectations of the Hebrew priests.

The entity in mocking their religion, not intentionally to mock, but to go to all of those sacred places as a Messiah, those sacred places which were held sacred by the Hebrew, by the priests; having gone to those sacred places, the entity was conducting a ritual to superimpose a new religion over the top of the old false religion of the Hebrews, and in so doing, caused them great embarrassment.

It would be as if someone today, representing the New Age consciousness were to go around to all of the Christian sacred places and perform certain rituals that were representative of what Christians were expecting in regard to the return of Christ.

For example if one were to go through a mockery of the crucifixion on Golgotha or if one were to go through the various actions as described in the New Testament and attributed to Jesus, but representing themselves as a New Age person and claiming themselves to be the returning Christ, it would be an affront to those present day Christians.

Why Jesus Took Up the Whip

Thus, this entity created wrath among the Hebrew priests toward himself, but at the same time was diffusing the power of those religious points, those sacred shrines, those sacred places where Jehovah, the Lord of the spacecraft had previously set down and had previously left his mark in religious history and legend.

This Awareness indicates that therefore, Jesus, in entering the temple was conducting what might be termed, the final blow to their religion, showing them what he really thought of their money-changing tactics in terms of using the temple for this action in which they took money in exchange for temple money which would then be used for certain payments to the priests for various purposes.

This Awareness indicates that in this manner, Jesus, in showing his wrath towards these entities and taking on the whip, was making a social

Statement as well as a religious and zealot type of action based on his personal beliefs as to the wrong-doing of these priests, and when this entity left the temple, it was not that the entity cursed the fig tree, but rather that the entity used the fig tree to unload the accumulation of his anger.

This Awareness reminds you that some time back this Awareness suggested that entities who are in a negative mood give those negative energies to plants for they will use them in a positive way for their own growth.

If you are angry, go hug a tree. The tree will accept that anger from you, and will grow with that energy.

Likewise, this is what was meant in saying that Jesus cursed the fig tree.

This Awareness indicates that in this instance, it was referring to the entity known as Jesus the Essene or the Nazarene; that this was all part of the entity's carrying out of a scenario in the sense of a passion play being enacted upon the streets of Jerusalem for a particular purpose, to change consciousness.

Follow-Up Question:

Didn't legend have it that the fig tree either died or never again bore fruit? Was this something they added on later to the story?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that this as in the affirmative.

This Awareness indicates that the actuality behind this is that this story also was part of a previous legend from other cultures; that it was part of the passion play being enacted by Jesus, and that in so doing in carrying out this action, the fig tree was simply a player or prop in the passion play.

This Awareness indicates that the part that was historically accurate was in reference to the temple and the moneychangers, the riding of the donkey on that which later became known as Palm Sunday, and the other actions which took place as part of a pre-planned event by Jesus to carry out this particular passion play on the streets of Jerusalem; this having been a script that was available in other cultures as part of other religious teachings.

The Value Of Balance In Life And Relationships (Making Those Miracles Come To Pass)

Question:

Does Awareness have a closing message?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that the extremes which entities commonly endure and experience in their daily lives should be examined carefully to see if the reaction one holds toward these extremes is justified, or if the entity can some way move into a more centralized and balanced and harmonious position, between that extreme and its opposite, so that there is an attitude of harmony and balance.

In other words, if entities look at those extremes which they feel they cannot deal with, they should look to see if there is an opposite which exists either within their own psyche, perhaps as a kind of ideal that they wish to see as opposed to the reality which they cannot tolerate, and then, if so, they may look to see if there is some place in between that is more realistic for them to seek, compromising the ideal with the reality in a way that reconciles both and gives themselves more peace.

For example, an entity who cannot stand to have anything out of place in a room, who lives with someone who cannot keep up with the demands and is constantly leaving things out of place so that one entity has the ideal of a perfectly kept room and the other has the ideal of a comfortable room where he or she can kick her shoes off and let them fall where they will -- is there a way to compromise so that not only is the room fairly comfortable for both, but their relationship can be reconciled to a more comfortable zone?

Many entities would rather sacrifice their relationship with someone, making extreme demands on the other than to sacrifice their ideal of some territorial image or wish.

It is important for entities to realize that even though you might be able to control another to meet your perfect design, it does not necessarily mean that the other is happy with you, even if obedient toward you, and you must realize that a relationship requires both parties being comfortable with each other if it is to function properly.

Thus, entities must learn to reconcile their differences and in some cases, if one entity is too demanding over another, and the one entity who is highly demanding has selected someone who is highly compromising, it may allow the relationship to exist for some time because the one is always ready to give in and the other one is always ready to demand of the other, but this cannot last forever, and eventually, the one who is constantly giving in will begin to feel some kind of hostility at always being the one who surrenders.

It may become necessary at some point that the one who would normally surrender will have to take a stand and force a compromise from the other in order for this relationship to move into a real balance in which both parties have their own individual growth from the relationship, for growth requires that each party become responsible to each other and to themselves, and if one is constantly giving oneself to the will of another, that entity is not growing properly, nor is the other growing properly.

Therefore, entities, in learning to relate, may find it necessary to create polarities once in awhile in order to take a stand against something that is unjust or imbalanced, because you cannot create balance if both entities are standing on the same side of the teeter-totter, or if one is standing in the middle and the other is standing on the far right or far left end of the teeter-totter.

The only way balance can occur is if both parties stand equally from the center.

Therefore, one may need to step out toward the end or edge of the teeter-totter in opposition to the other who would create a heavy weight for his or her position, and you may need to walk out on that teeter-totter to bring your weight to bear in opposition.

From there it may become possible for reconciliation to occur as you both compromise here and there, slightly moving inward toward the center.

This Awareness indicates that with this understanding, not only can you reconcile differences, oppositions, and polarities within yourself so that you may effect miracles and benefits in terms of your own life, but you may also see that this can help you to reconcile differences between relationships with others, individuals or groups, so that as these individuals or groups move in to harmonious balance, business can occur, relationships can occur, marriage can occur, contracts can occur, agreements can occur, negotiations can occur, and entities can find cooperation with one another instead of opposition always being present in the relationship.

This Awareness indicates that this as that which can be applied to many levels of one's life, to many relationships -- close, intimate, business career, casual -- or in regard to concepts and ideas.

As entities begin to reconcile polarities they will note that their entire lives take on a new sense of harmony in those areas of reconciliation.

This Awareness reminds you however, that you cannot reconcile differences if there are no differences to reconcile, thus, if you side with those who are carrying on mischief, then you must wait for someone who will oppose you, and then hope for reconciliation, but if you find yourself on the side of someone who is involved in mischief and you do not like being where you are, you must then move to the other side of the teeter-totter and oppose the entity, and then from there, move toward reconciliation with the entity.
